The Chamber of Commerce of Bogotá (CCB) is a private non-profit organization that seeks to build a sustainable and prosperous Bogotá region. During 140 years, the CCB has grown from a handful of visionary members to an economic engine at the heart of the commercial, industrial, and entrepreneurial interests of a modern metropolis of nine million, and a strategic business hub for the hemisphere. By offering guidance to the local business community, from supporting start-ups to organizing trade and networking platforms for the promotion of specialized clusters, the CCB is a major ally in Bogotá's corporate and cultural industries.
