
THE "NOT YET" CLAUSE GUIDE

PART 1: DISTINGUISHING THE MAN FROM THE ROMANCE

On one side identify the things you like about him as a person. On the other side identify the reasons he has given you to like him romantically. Note the difference and whether or not there is enough evidence to invest your feelings.

THE MAN	THE ROMANCE
He's a driven natural leader.	He calls to tell me he's thinking about me.

PART 2: IDENTIFYING NON-ROMANTIC LIKABLE TRAITS

Use the numbered list below to write out the traits you like about the object of your attention. The identified traits should in no way reflect the way he makes you feel. This list is primarily about him and what compatible traits he offers you. Your list will reveal the depth of what you actually know and like about him.

WHAT I LIKE ABOUT HIM

RIGHT >	He's genuinely patient with everyone he knows.	He always takes the time to listen to me.	< WRONG
