HEALING AND MOTIVATING LAUGHTER FOR THE SOUL

Impressive Insight into Human Behavior

Nearly everyone responds to humor. People want to laugh and play when given the opportunity. The trick is to create those opportunities in everyday life situations and challenges. Dr. Craig Shoemaker has the key...laughter. Laughter works on all levels, beginning with the soul, to foster motivation, healing and a happier life. Craig leads in a laughter filled journey through transformation and participation based workshops. These keys to laughter nourish the soul, providing the spring-board for a new outlook on life.

Craig possesses wide-ranging knowledge and experience stemming from his success as a highly skilled comedian with a PhD in Humanities. Craig has the insight to guide audiences to change and heal their most serious issues with laughter because laughter is a gift that heals. It is comedy with the intention to inspire people to manage their personal difficulties through humor. Laughter, it breaks down barriers and brings people together. Craig takes laughter very seriously.

Where do his knowledge, inspiration and insight come from?

Craig, raised by a single mother through tough times and experiences, he put himself through college at Temple University by doubling as a bartender and comedy emcee. Craig went on to complete his PhD in Humanities at California University of Pennsylvania and is an Ordained Minister. His gift is his big heart with a brilliant mind attached to it. He is not just interesting, he is interested! Watching, studying, learning and understanding people have been a life long fascination for him. With his extensive education and the wisdom and insight of an old soul, his focal point is laughter.

Craig Shoemaker's extensive accomplishments, spanning more than three decades, are beyond impressive. Craig is best known for his character, The Love Master, which has earned him numerous awards. He has performed for major television and cable networks, writes for Fuller House, a radio guest on countless stations and Podcasts, hosted his own syndicated radio show, iTunes #1 comedy album; The Last Stand Up, on stage stand up, performances on Broadway, has written two children's books, invented ON Hold advertising and hosted motivational presentations and speeches; all with audiences ranging from 50 to over 70,000 people.
