My earliest memory of doing something creative is..."Why are creative memories important? Find out at creatingconnection.org"
The fictional world I’d most like to visit is...

Did you know that using your imagination can reduce stress? Learn how creativity contributes to happiness at creatingconnection.org
The worst icebreaker game I ever played was...

Laughing together is good for your brain, your heart, and your relationships. Learn how creativity contributes to wellbeing at creatingconnection.org
If I were on a reality TV show, it would be...

Using your imagination can help you connect with those around you. Learn why social bonding is critical to your health at creatingconnection.org
I’m at this conference because...

Is learning something new on your list? Check out creatingconnection.org
My favorite musical instrument is..

Did you know that being creative is good for your immune system? Access more info on how the arts can keep you healthy at creatingconnection.org
If I could see one movie or play again for the first time, it would be...

Why are creative memories important? Find out at creatingconnection.org
If I were famous, I would be famous for...

How can using your imagination boost resiliency? Find out at creatingconnection.org
If I could bring back any fashion trend it would be...

Laughing together is good for your brain, your heart, and your relationships. Learn how creativity contributes to happiness at creatingconnection.org
The best book I’ve read recently is...

Making time to connect with yourself contributes to your sense of wellbeing. Find out what that means for the arts sector at creatingconnection.org
If I had to teach a class on one thing it would be...

Learning new things is one of the most highly valued ways to spend your time. Learn more about what the public values and why it matters at creatingconnection.org
You have to sing karaoke. What song do you pick?

Creative expression can reduce stress. Find out how the arts are core to wellbeing at creatingconnection.org
If I could bring back any fashion trend it would be...

Laughing together is good for your brain, your heart, and your relationships. Learn how creativity contributes to happiness at creatingconnection.org
CREATING CONNECTION

Enriching lives through the power of creative expression