Aquidneck Community Table requires community gardeners to follow current State of Rhode Island guidelines for good health and hygiene habits to prevent the spread of the Coronavirus: Stay home if you, or a member of your household is sick; wear a mask; keep a safe social distance; take other precautions to protect yourself and others from the COVID-19 virus.

Please exercise an abundance of caution if you choose to visit your community garden plot. We require all gardeners to follow these new guidelines to minimize the chance of the spread of COVID-19:

- First and foremost, anyone with any symptoms, or who is living with someone with any symptoms, should not enter the community garden.
- Bring your own disinfecting hand-sanitizer. Be mindful of frequently touched surfaces, such as water spigots.
  - Please wash your hands with disinfecting hand-sanitizer before and after touching a wheelbarrow and/or water spigots.
  - If you choose to wear gloves please remember they need to be changed after every task. Handwashing is the most important measure.
- Wear a mask at all times that covers your mouth and nose.
-Bring your own garden tools. Do not use shared tools.
- Maintain a social distance of at least six feet between people.
- Per the Governor’s order, we must limit the number of people in the garden to five at a time. If there are more than five people in the community garden area, we ask that you come back at another time. If this becomes difficult to self-manage, we will look into organizing a calendar with time slots to accommodate everyone’s schedule.
- Stay informed by visiting the Rhode Island Department of Health website and the CDC website.

Let’s do our part and work together to prevent the spread of COVID-19.
