Our mission is to GROW a HEALTHY LOCAL food system, accessible to ALL ON our island.

- 88 garden beds
- 6,000 gallons of food waste diverted
- 7 school & community gardens
- 536 children tasting new fruits & veggies
- 4,190 lbs of food donated by market vendors to island food pantries
- 41,000+ shopping visits
- 50+ households taking part in the Local Food Challenge
- $1.5 million+ kept in LOCAL economy

Aquidneck Community Table
Aquidneck Community Table (ACT) offers sponsors an array of marketing opportunities throughout the year that deliver sponsors’ names to the island community, marking them as leaders in the movement toward a healthy food future. ACT is a non-profit organization that relies on donations and sponsorships like yours to deliver our programs.

With your support, ACT’s team will continue to raise awareness of food security issues, support farmers and local food producers (through our popular farmers markets), host the annual Food Challenge, engage restaurants and residents in a campaign to reduce food waste, and educate youth about the benefits of gardening through our seven school and community gardens on Aquidneck Island.

ACT’s summer farmers markets are visited by between 900 and 2,200 shoppers each week, creating high visibility for ACT sponsors. ACT also has a strong social media presence and email base which can be used for targeted marketing.

Sponsorship opportunities include the following:

> Your logo on banners at Aquidneck Growers Markets

> Participation in the September 12th, 2021 Second Sunday Event at Newport Restoration Foundation’s Prescott Farm

> Your company name in press releases, articles, and our monthly newsletter

> Your name and link in ACT social media posts

> A link to your business on the ACT website

> Your locally sourced recipe on the ACT website

Please see the attached table for pricing.

Local Food Challenge 2021

A Locally-Sourced Eating Adventure!

Where does our food come from?
What foods are produced in RI?
Does farm-fresh food taste any different from food we buy in a grocery store?
What seafood is caught in Narragansett Bay?
What are the benefits to RI if I spend my grocery budget on local food?
Are there benefits to our health when we shop locally?
Where can I buy locally?
Where can I dine out that sources locally?

These are the questions the Eat Local Food Challenge is designed to inspire and answer! This September, in the height of the harvest season, the Eat Local Food Challenge will again build a groundswell of participation among many partners to generate excitement and growth in Aquidneck Island’s food system. From residents to restaurants creating locally-sourced dishes, to change-makers in food businesses, institutions, and food-support agencies who lead by sourcing locally, the Challenge helps us step outside our food habits, and in doing so, we develop the economic benefits of a regional food system and improve the health of all residents.

"The Local Food Challenge has been very rewarding for us - creating exposure to new customers and connecting food partners and farmers with our diners."
- Chris Bender, Stoneacre Brasserie

For every $100 spent locally, $68 stays in the community

"The Food Challenge gives local makers and providers a platform and a voice to show the community the importance of eating local!"
- Emma Haskell, The Granny Squibb Company

Join us by becoming a 2021 sponsor, linking your name as a champion of healthy food and the local economy, and increasing consumer understanding of the many benefits of supporting local farmers, restaurants, and purveyors.
