A true friend is one who joyfully celebrates your triumphs as well as your challenges.

"Our team has had the honor of working with Theresa Walker. Theresa is one of the best reporters we've ever worked with and has truly captured our voice while honoring our patients. Theresa has taken great care with our stories, constructed narratives have been a gift to our patients, and she curates her stories with such grace and attention to detail. We'll miss her!"

"Theresa has the unique ability to draw out the strength of our clients and turn those interviews into inspiring stories that always resonate. Her detailed piece on CAP OC's immediate response to the pandemic beautifully captured the breadth and depth of OC's immediate response to the pandemic. Her dedicated piece on CAP OC's construction projects was a testament to her ability to tell stories with such deep care and understanding of the nuances of the issues and the people they affect. We wish her the best of luck as she begins her next chapter and know that these issues and the people they affect will benefit because of her exceptional way to tell us the stories we need to hear.

"Theresa Walker has been a huge asset to the Orange County Leaders. Through her writing, she not only has her finger on the pulse of issues that are important to our community, but she curates her stories and shares your gift of storytelling with us all. She is curious, compassionate and thorough. She takes the story – the nuances of our mission – and make it resonate with and has truly captured our voice while honoring our clients. Theresa has taken great care with our stories, constructed narratives have been a gift to our patients, and she curates her stories with such grace and attention to detail. We'll miss her!"

"The Orange County Leaders are proud to have worked with Theresa Walker. She is curious, compassionate and thorough. She takes the story – the nuances of our mission – and make it resonate with and has truly captured our voice while honoring our clients. Theresa has taken great care with our stories, constructed narratives have been a gift to our patients, and she curates her stories with such grace and attention to detail. We'll miss her!"

"Theresa is one of the best reporters we've ever worked with. She has a great knack for drawing out the strength of our clients and turn those interviews into inspiring stories that always resonate. Her detailed piece on CAP OC's immediate response to the pandemic beautifully captured the breadth and depth of OC's immediate response to the pandemic. Her dedicated piece on CAP OC's construction projects was a testament to her ability to tell stories with such deep care and understanding of the nuances of the issues and the people they affect. We wish her the best of luck as she begins her next chapter and know that these issues and the people they affect will benefit because of her exceptional way to tell us the stories we need to hear."

"Theresa Walker has been an advocate for the truth. Theresa will be missed deeply. She is curious, compassionate and thorough. She takes the story – the nuances of our mission – and make it resonate with and has truly captured our voice while honoring our clients. Theresa has taken great care with our stories, constructed narratives have been a gift to our patients, and she curates her stories with such grace and attention to detail. We'll miss her!"

"Theresa is one of the best reporters we've ever worked with. She has a great knack for drawing out the strength of our clients and turn those interviews into inspiring stories that always resonate. Her detailed piece on CAP OC's immediate response to the pandemic beautifully captured the breadth and depth of OC's immediate response to the pandemic. Her dedicated piece on CAP OC's construction projects was a testament to her ability to tell stories with such deep care and understanding of the nuances of the issues and the people they affect. We wish her the best of luck as she begins her next chapter and know that these issues and the people they affect will benefit because of her exceptional way to tell us the stories we need to hear."

"Theresa Walker has been a huge asset to the Orange County Leaders. Through her writing, she not only has her finger on the pulse of issues that are important to our community, but she curates her stories and shares your gift of storytelling with us all. She is curious, compassionate and thorough. She takes the story – the nuances of our mission – and make it resonate with and has truly captured our voice while honoring our clients. Theresa has taken great care with our stories, constructed narratives have been a gift to our patients, and she curates her stories with such grace and attention to detail. We'll miss her!"

"Theresa is one of the best reporters we've ever worked with. She has a great knack for drawing out the strength of our clients and turn those interviews into inspiring stories that always resonate. Her detailed piece on CAP OC's immediate response to the pandemic beautifully captured the breadth and depth of OC's immediate response to the pandemic. Her dedicated piece on CAP OC's construction projects was a testament to her ability to tell stories with such deep care and understanding of the nuances of the issues and the people they affect. We wish her the best of luck as she begins her next chapter and know that these issues and the people they affect will benefit because of her exceptional way to tell us the stories we need to hear."

"Theresa Walker has been a huge asset to the Orange County Leaders. Through her writing, she not only has her finger on the pulse of issues that are important to our community, but she curates her stories and shares your gift of storytelling with us all. She is curious, compassionate and thorough. She takes the story – the nuances of our mission – and make it resonate with and has truly captured our voice while honoring our clients. Theresa has taken great care with our stories, constructed narratives have been a gift to our patients, and she curates her stories with such grace and attention to detail. We'll miss her!"