We try really hard to try and make sure you have a good time. If we can improve on anything please let us know. We are but mere mortals and we would really appreciate the opportunity to correct any mistakes or oversights before you leave.

Some dishes take longer than others to cook and there maybe a slightly longer wait at busy times. If you are in a rush, then please let us know (so we can bribe the chef with beer and try to get your meals out quicker).
