

A close-up photograph of a hand with fingers spread, set against a teal background. The hand is positioned on the left side of the frame, with the fingers extending towards the right. The skin tone is dark, and the lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the skin and the lines on the fingers. The background is a solid, slightly textured teal color.

FREE SWIM

a documentary film by jennifer galvin

www.FreeSwimMovie.com

FREE SWIM is an award winning documentary film about the paradox of coastal people not knowing how to swim. Taking place on the island of Eleuthera in the Bahamas we follow a group of kids as they overcome their fears, gain confidence and reconnect with their environment by learning to swim in open waters. With fresh memories of a friend drowning and the conflicts of growing tourism, for these kids it's not just about floating, but gaining new skills for their future.

www.FreeSwimMovie.com

a reelblue production • www.reelblue.net