Historical Note

The Tavern Hall Club was founded in 1911 to foster understanding and cooperation between the people of the Village of Kingston and the community of students, faculty, administrators and staff at Rhode Island State College (now the University of Rhode Island). The name of the club was derived from location at which the club met from 1911 to 1919: Joseph Reynolds' Tavern. The club was first registered as a corporation with the Secretary of State of Rhode Island on March 23, 1914 with its charter president, Robert A. Lichtenthaeler and the charter board of directors Frank H. Bills, Wilbur E. Dove, George E. Merkle, Lawrence S. Crosby, and Roy B. Cooley as signatories. The Tavern Hall Club found its permanent residence in 1919 when it purchased the Elisha Reynolds House (also known as the Lucca House) in Kingston. Although the club initially only admitted male members, the membership voted unanimously to amend the constitution to admit women as full members in 1994. In 1996, the club elected its first woman president, Elizabeth L. Indeglia.

The Tavern Hall Club served the community for nearly a century by providing educational programs and social activities for residents of Kingston. It was the institutional sponsor of Boy Scout Troop 1, Kingston beginning in 1923. At the close of February 2004, the Tavern Hall Club was superseded by the Tavern Hall Preservation Society through incorporation as a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit corporation dedicated to the preservation of its meeting house.

Series I: Annual Records

The Annual Records Series contains records that were organized in bound volumes, three-ring binders, large envelopes, or simply held together by rubber bands and other fasteners. Many of these records were kept by the secretary of the Tavern Hall Club and organized chronologically. With the exception of the bound volumes, these records have been removed from their original containers and rehoused in archival folders. Unless there was a clear thematic organization of the materials, the records were organized chronologically within their original groupings to retain their initial context. Unless otherwise noted, the contents of each folder include diverse records such as annual logs of each year, meeting minutes, correspondence, programs, and treasurer reports.

Series III: Financial Records

The Financial Records Series contains materials related to the financial history of the Tavern Hall Club. It includes ledgers, bank documents, receipts, treasurer reports, checkbooks, insurance information, tax slips, and other miscellaneous reports and documents. Many materials were grouped together, and this order has been maintained when necessary to provide context for receipts and bills. Other than the 1930-1960 Treasurer's Day Book, which is placed in a separate box at the beginning of the series, the series is arranged alphabetically by type of document and then chronologically. However, utility bills and receipts are simply grouped together by quarter of year, which are then organized chronologically.
