

Total Health Pharmacists Video

Script Option 2 / v1 / March 17, 2015 / RT 1:30

VISUAL	VOICE OVER
	These days, there's a lot of competition out there. Not only are many companies doing the same thing, but they're also marketing themselves the same way.
	What truly sets them apart is culture. Personality. Heart.
	Like how much they invest in and care about their employees. And, in turn, how much their employees invest in what they do. How hard they work, but more importantly, how much they like coming to work each day. How happy they are to be there.
	Total Health Pharmacists believes that healthy employees are the happiest employees. And that improving the health of your employees can improve your company's culture—and its bottom line.
	We offer a robust workplace wellness solution that's tailored to your specific needs. And because we're run by pharmacists, unlike other wellness programs, we can help prevent illness and optimize treatment.
	Through health education, medication check-ups, coaching, and biometric screenings, we'll speak with your employees about common health problems, and see to it that they're making the most of their treatments.
	Our platform is customizable and easy to use, offering an online patient-centered portal, risk assessment, and app. It can also track progress, or changes in your employees' overall health, for a true return on your investment.

	A healthier, happier workplace culture is one that stands out. Show your employees how invested you are in them.
--	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Positive outcomes will follow.