General Overview

Privacy Policy Overview

This Privacy Policy describes the personal information and other data that we gather when you are accessing or using our website and App. Your privacy is important to i65 and we want you to know about our online privacy policies and practices. We gather and use various types of personal information, as well as other data from our users as identified below. We do not sell your Personal Information to third parties.

What Information does i65 collect?

The information we collect varies depending on the type of activity you are performing on our website or App, and helps us provide our services. We collect the following personal information about or from you through both our website and through the App:

- Name (first and last name)
- Date of Birth
- State of Residence
- Zip Code of Residence
- Billing Address
- Email Address

Other Information may be gathered through your use of the website or App, as described below:

- Time, duration, and location of your website or App use
- Other usage activity logs
- Other analytics not based on Personal Information
- Cookies: We sometimes collect anonymous information through the use of various technologies, including “cookies,” to help us provide better customer service. A cookie is an element of data that a website can send to your browser, which is then stored on your system. Cookies enable our web server to recognize your computer. This allows a company to tailor its website to better match your interests and preferences. Information gathered through cookies and webserver logs may include the date and time of visits, the pages viewed, time spent at the website, and the websites visited just before and just after its website. But, cookies do not collect personal information about you. You can set your browser to notify you before you receive a cookie, giving you the chance to decide whether to accept it. You can also set your browser to block cookies altogether.
- Analyzed and Aggregated Information: when we collect personal information, we may extract some information and combine it with other information. This information is used and analyzed to help us understand trends and patterns or do other analysis. None of this information is reviewed at an individual level.

How does i65 use this data?

i65 gathers, retains, and uses information to both operate our business and to make our products, services, information, and opportunities available to you.

To the extent permitted by applicable law, we may use personal information and other data in the following ways:

- To Provide You with Requested Products and Services and Customer Service: We may process, use, and share the information you have provided us and other information we collect to provide the services and information you request, and to otherwise fulfill requests you make to us.

- Communicating with You: We may communicate with you if you give us permission and the means to do so. If you provide us your email address, for example, we may send you emails regarding the use of our services. We do not provide your email address to third parties for their marketing purposes.
- Internal Business Purposes: We may use the information you have provided us or that we have otherwise collected on the website or the App to:
 - Improve our effectiveness and services offered through our website or the App
 - Conduct research or analysis relating to our products and services
 - To circulate an email newsletter to our users

On some occasions, we may share some personal information with third parties, but only as described below:

Other business affiliates and third-party service providers: We may partner with other organizations to perform specific services for us as part of the core functionality built into the website or App and to deliver you products and Services. We may share personal information and other collected information with third party service providers to perform or help perform functions on our behalf.
