What will Resonant Energy do for you?

1. Feasibility Analysis
   The first phase of the analysis looks at your buildings’ potential to host solar. We will investigate potential roadblocks including the material of your roof, nearby shading from trees or buildings, structural or electrical issues.

2. Financial Analysis
   We analyze your electricity usage and apply a dozen financing scenarios, including ownership and no cost options, to determine which type of funding will optimize your financial outcome, while maximizing the available policy incentives. You know your organization best, so our goal is to give you the tools to make the best decision for your organization. We can connect you with our network of mission-aligned lenders and impact financiers who specialize in solar projects.

3. Custom Proposal & Preliminary Design
   You will receive a detailed proposal, inclusive of a comprehensive 25-year cash flow projection, that will outline the best solar financing and system size based on our in-depth analysis. We’ll also generate a preliminary design customized for your building and organization’s priorities. Our team will arrange a no-cost consultation to discuss the proposal and answer any questions you have about the solar process.

4. Permitting & Installation Logistics
   We work directly with our financial, engineering, and installation partners throughout the entire scope of the project. We provide turnkey project management, including handling all permitting, incentive program applications and interconnection with the utility.

5. Technical Assistance & Excellent Customer Service
   We are involved in your project from start to finish and our knowledgeable team members will be available to answer questions and troubleshoot any technical issues as they arise. We aim to make the process of going solar as smooth as possible and we advocate for our client’s best interest every step of the way.
