Founded in 1990, so much love, grit and sweat has been given to make space for artists, activists, filmmakers, musicians, punks and other people who felt they didn't quite belong in Singapore. For all these people who didn't have space, we made space. Their art, their songs, their stories still haunt this place. We are a home for the arts. We say A not The, because ultimately, our dream is that the home for the arts is Singapore: open, plural and willing to embrace those who don't fit in.
