Noyes Museum Artist Membership Application

Application Deadline for Fall Signature and Associate Member Exhibitions: June 1, 2018
Applications are reviewed by committee once annually, in June.

What is The Noyes Museum of Art of Stockton University? Opened in 1983, the Noyes Museum was the vision of entrepreneurs Fred and Ethel Noyes. An avid collector and an academically-trained artist, Fred Noyes expressed his love of South Jersey's natural features in his artwork. Ethel Noyes was a successful businesswoman who shared Fred's love of art. The Museum's permanent collection contains many of the Noyes' personal collections including American fine and folk art, vintage bird decoys, paintings, and sculptures.

Today, the Noyes Museum of Art of Stockton University maintains our founders' dedication to preserving, interpreting, and exhibiting the art and cultural heritage of southern New Jersey. As the only fine and contemporary art museum in southern New Jersey, the Noyes is devoted to research, education, documentation and presentation of artistic expressions. Programs include exhibitions, demonstrations, community events, and educational workshops. The programs are designed to impart an appreciation for the vital relationship between the arts and the community.

What is the Artists Membership Program? The Noyes Museum has established an artist membership program for regional artists. The Signature Artist Membership is for professional artists, while the Associate Artist Membership is for emerging artists.
