CREATUREKIND

Faith, Food, Creation Care

Final Presentation by Shea Watts
ENGAGING CHURCHES IN NEW WAYS OF THINKING ABOUT ANIMALS AND CHRISTIAN FAITH, WITH A SPECIAL FOCUS ON FARmed ANIMAL WELFARE.
Let's Dish
A podcast about the connection between food and social change
School of Faith

Praying w/ Our Eyes Open
Explored the notion of liturgy, which connects our worship to the world.

Mindful Consumption
Thinking about from where our food comes, how we get it, and why it matters.

Creation as Gift
Moving beyond a worldview that sees creation as a commodity.
Learnings

Pandemic

Pandemics are hard. We had to adjust learning times, format, and content.

Alt. Resources

I integrated different readings, videos, and local NC content into the six-session curriculum.

Context

Living in the land of BBQ, ground zero for factory farming and agriculture.
Outcomes

Lenten Practice
Several in the group gave up eating animals and dairy for Lent

Vegan Options
The Church has been offering vegan options to make things available to the congregation.

Programming
CK will be a part of the program offerings moving forward!
Final Product

Putting things together

01 Supplementing
Adding readings from BIPOC voices, as well as other approaches to the topic, such as womanist, ecological, and

02 Coordinating
Bringing together materials, as well as building local connections, such as Feed The Movement Charlotte and other vegan chef/activists within Charlotte.

03 Finalizing
Making readings and resources available, pertinent, and all in one place. I want to bring together knowledge and action, theory and praxis.
