

2017 Corporate Memberships

Thank you for your support of Race Street Range so far! We're excited to announce that we have received all necessary approvals to move forward with the range and are now deep into the engineering and financing phases for a planned opening towards the end of 2017. In addition to general memberships for individuals, we are offering corporate memberships for businesses like yours.

Our business model is unique: we'll offer private range access to live-fire qualified members only, plus host quality firearms and self-defense training available to members and the public. In addition, range facilities will be available for rental by law enforcement agencies for training and qualification purposes. We will not have a retail sales storefront.

Race Street Range members and customers are serious and savvy shooters who appreciate companies that produce quality products and have excellent customer service – like yours!

We know that one of the things that make your business a leader in the firearms industry is how many of your employees are shooters. We also know that having a flexible place to shoot is rare in the Philadelphia region. Therefore, we'd like to offer the ability for you to pre-purchase multi-year memberships for your company.

Corporate memberships will have the ability to reassign memberships among staff, so long as you keep us up to date on who the membership is assigned to so that we can administer our qualification program.

In addition to general use and product testing, discounted range access is available by prior arrangement with us for shooting promotional footage or hosting private demo or instructional events.

All corporate supporters of Race Street Range will be promoted to our members and customers as friends of the range. Should you choose to provide discounts or other special offers through Race Street Range, we'll make sure our members and customers know about them. You'll also be first in line for sponsorship of any Race Street Range events. While you won't be obligated to provide any support for those events, you'll have first crack at putting your name up in front of attendees. We'll work with you to design any promotions you choose to participate in.

We're happy to share more with you about our plans for Race Street Range, and speak directly with you about a corporate membership opportunity, whether as outlined above or created just for your company. Our contact information is at our website (www.racestreetrange.com) and we can be reached directly through our Facebook page (fb.com/racestreetrange) or by email (info@racestreetrange.com).
