

A smartphone, like the Galaxy S2, includes hundreds of thousands of patented inventions.

Mobile operating system: Android OS

Patent holders include:

- Google

Electronic circuit that executes programs on the Galaxy SII: ARM Cortex-A9

Patent holders include:

- ARM Holdings

Sync and synchronize email, calendar, contacts: Exchange ActiveSync

Patent holders include:

- Microsoft

Audio/video data transfer between smartphone and other devices: HDMI

Patent holders include:

HDMI Licensing, LLC, a group of over 1,600 manufacturing adopters, such as:

- Hitachi Maxell
- Sony
- Panasonic
- Toshiba
- Samsung

Local wireless network connectivity: Wi-Fi

Patent holders include: over 100 companies, such as:

- University of California
- Nokia
- AT&T
- Panasonic
- Intel
- Samsung
- Sony

Removable memory storage card: Micro SD

Patent holders include:

SD Association, a group of over 800 members, such as:

- Panasonic
- Toshiba
- Samsung

High-definition photography and video recording:

8 megapixel Rear Camera

Patent holders include:

- Fujitsu
- Sony
- Samsung

Protective glass screen:

Gorilla Glass

Patent holders include:

- Corning Inc.

Electronic circuit that generates images to display:

ARM Mali-400 MP4

Patent holders include:

- ARM Holdings

High resolution display screen technology: AMOLED Plus

Patent holders include:

- Samsung

Mobile High-definition Link to televisions and audio receivers: MHL

Patent holders include members of MHL Consortium, a group of over 150 companies, such as:

- Nokia
- Sony
- Samsung
- Toshiba

External port for data transfer between devices and charging: Micro USB 2.0

Patent holders include: USB Implementers Forum Inc., a group of over 800 members, such as:

- Intel
- Microsoft
- HP
- Samsung

Wireless data exchange: Bluetooth 3.0

Patent holders include: Bluetooth Special Interest Group which includes nearly 30,000 companies, such as:

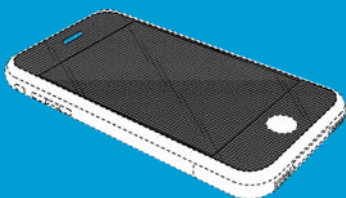

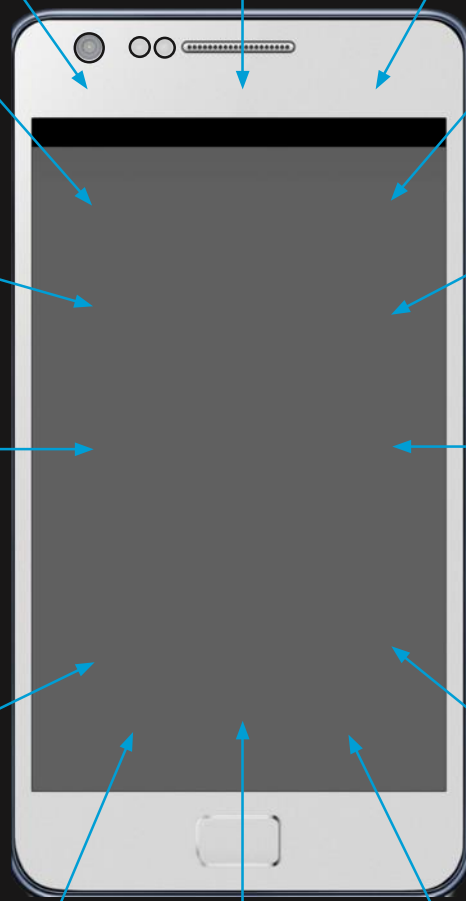

- Microsoft
- Nokia
- Lenovo
- Samsung
- Ericsson
- Toshiba
- Intel

Viewing, editing, and saving Microsoft Office documents:

Polaris Office

Patent holders include:

- INFRAWARE

US Design Patent D618,677

The ornamental design of an electronic device.

Despite the incredible amount of functional technology contained in a modern device, Apple claimed that a single functionless design is all that matters and asserted that notion for four years in court.

Innovators applaud the U.S. Supreme Court's December 6 decision in the Apple v. Samsung case.

Thank you for valuing function and form.
