Federal Context – Trump Administration

45th President of the United States

Donald J. Trump (Term – 2017-2020)

Key Planning Agency/Departments

DOT Secretary – Elaine L. Chao (FHWA, FTA, FAA)
HUD Secretary – Benjamin S. Carson, Sr. (CPD)
Interior Secretary – Ryan Zinke (NPS, Fish and Wildlife, BLM)
Commerce Secretary – Wilbur L. Ross (Census, BEA, NOAA, EDA)
Treasury Secretary – Steven T. Mnuchin (CDFI, IRS)
EPA Administrator – Scott Pruitt

Sub-Cabinet Appointments

- still coming along, President continues to question the need for these appointments
- these include FTA, FAA, Census, National Park Service
- Investigate network contacts for connections
- APA Appointments Tracker relevant for list
The 115th Congress

115th Congress of the United States – (2017-2018)
- most diverse Congress in history, still less diverse than the population
- fractured coalitions, but unified control

House of Representatives – 238 Republicans, 193 Democrats (4 vacant)
- Speaker Hon. Paul Ryan
- Minority (Democratic) Leader Hon. Nancy Pelosi

Senate – 51 Republicans, 49 Minority Members (Democrats/Independents)
- Majority Leader Hon. Mitch McConnell
- Minority Leader Hon. Chuck Schumer
LEGISLATIVE PRIORITIES

Stand up for planning in 2018

Our policy agenda calls on Congress to address four issues to create stronger, more just communities for all.

1. Infrastructure
2. Housing Choice and Affordability
3. Federal Data
4. Healthy and Safe Communities

Share these priorities with your representatives at planning.org/policy
2018 Legislative Priorities

Creating stronger and more just communities through access to opportunity, strategic investments in innovation, and broadly-shared prosperity
Trump Infrastructure Plan

- $200b in Direct Spending
- But, Off-Sets from Existing Programs
- Aim to Leverage $1.5t in Investment
- 20% Max Cap on Federal Investment
- Includes Policy and Environmental Review Changes
- Detailed Summary on the APA Website -
Federal Issues – Infrastructure…it’s here!

- how (or if) to pay for still?

- Texas high speed rail held and the hyperloops held out as examples (primarily privately funded)

- like Administration budget, “details astounding disinvestment in federal programs that support good planning”

- see adopted APA Infrastructure Principles
APA Response

Statement Released to Capitol Hill

Key Points:

• No Cuts to Existing Infrastructure Funds to Off Set New Program
• Stabilize the Highway Trust Fund
• No Burden Shift to Local Governments (Oppose 20% Federal Cap)
• Improve Support for Transit
• Boost Finance Tools and Support Innovation
• Address All Critical Infrastructure
Next Steps on Infrastructure

Challenging Climate for Action
• Funding Levels, Off Sets & the Gas Tax
• Deficit Concerns
• Policy Differences
• Midterms

Next Steps:
• Allocation Decisions for New Funding under Updated Budget Caps
• March Hearings & Committee Action
• Debate Continues

“APA appreciates the bipartisan interest in addressing our critical infrastructure needs. While recent steps mark progress, the infrastructure plan as presented falls far short of meeting the nation’s needs. There are important changes needed to deliver the kind of policy and funding required to strengthen communities, spur economic prosperity and support investments in access and opportunity.”

- Cynthia Bowen, AICP
President, American Planning Association
Budget and Tax Reform Update

- FFY 2018: Current stopgap funding bill expires March 23, final spending bill on House floor next week?
- FFY 2019: President’s proposal released last month, devastating cuts to HUD, EPA, DOT
- Tax reform: Finalized December 2017, preserves Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, Private Activity Bonds, Historic Preservation Tax Credit, New Market Tax Credit
“Once again, the Trump Administration has sent to Capitol Hill a budget proposal that fails local communities. The budget threatens essential and proven programs for community development, housing and transportation. More importantly, it fails communities and the work of creating stronger, more prosperous places for all. APA urges Congress to reject this approach and invest in the needs and priorities of the nation’s communities.”

- Cynthia Bowen, AICP
President, American Planning Association
Federal Issues – Digital Coast Act

Provides Critical Coastal Data for Planners

Enjoys bipartisan support in Congress

- Digital Coast Act (S. 110) passed in Senate by unanimous consent to formalize the program and appropriate funding for it this Congress
- House version (HR 4062) is gaining co-sponsors
- APA is working closely with the Digital Coast Partnership to encourage passage in the House
Federal Issues – Regulations

- environmental streamlining continues to be a top priority

- February 24, 2017 Executive Order created Regulatory Reform Officers and Task Forces in Most Agencies

- many regulations that were in process have been postponed

- Bureau of Land Management rule recently reversed; CAFE standards under review

- The EPA and Army continue to implement rulemaking changes that redefine the Waters of the United States (WOTUS) – see https://www.epa.gov/wotus-rule

- if you have a regulation that you want scaled back now is the time to act
