PEARL-COHN HIGH

ABOUT OUR SCHOOL

Pearl-Cohn Entertainment Magnet High serves students from historic North Nashville and across the city. We equip our students to realize and achieve their potential, involve families in learning and strengthen the communities they come from. Our staff is committed to building positive relationships that provide students with a sense of belonging and connection to our school community. By dividing our school into small learning communities and offering many extra-curricular activities, students receive the personalized attention and support they need to succeed. Pearl-Cohn is organized into three "mini-school" academies including a Freshman Academy, the Academy of Entertainment Communication and the Academy of Entertainment Management. Because of the academy model, students are exposed to the entertainment industry and have received national attention including:

- Internships with Warner Music Nashville and access to a multi-million dollar recording studio in the school
- Attendance at the My Hero International Film Festival in Los Angeles, CA and won Best Student/Mentor Music Video
- Broadcasting students were nominated for six Mid-South Emmy Awards and won two for Best Music Video and Best Serious News Story
- Students planned an outdoor music festival called PC Get Lifted
