Renwick Gallery proudly presents:

Tyler Dobson and Megan Marrin
June 2 – July 14, 2012

Opening reception:
Saturday June 2 6-8 pm

Press Release:

In this collaborative exhibition Tyler Dobson and Megan Marrin have made paintings and sculptures using materials such as eggs, real and faux birds nests, as well as a text that the artists came across one day. It was obviously written by a gallerist.

Eggs appear as both a raw material and hollowed with ornamental patterns. Their embellished substrates are sometimes layered with text. The paintings, as well, can be read.

There are many terms involved that relate to what we do.

All our very best regards and wishes,

Megan and Tyler

Addendum:

There will be a keg at this opening and the after party will take place at the gallery. For a limited time lobster rolls will be served.
