

Same Love

Over the rainbow we try to escape

We fantasize about a heavenly place

But the thing is we're always living in our minds

And because heaven hasn't found its place here

We're always disappointed all the fucking time

(Bridge)

So I'm ready to be straight

With my words and all my hate

Yeah I'm done dickin' round with your eggshell feelings

it's just the ego and the ego is an egg that needs to be cracked, yeah it needs to be cracked

(Chorus)

So this is a song for the lonely hearts who

Have an ego that doesn't shut up

Night and day

And this is a song so you know

You're not alone and

There's still others out there trying to figure out

How to deal with this in an ok way

Yeah this is a song for the ego

A proclamation for a crack to occur

I'm going to scream it

From my lungs and from my ears and

From my mouth and from my feelings dear

Don't be afraid

Cause when we crack together we're sane

Yeah we can all be sane

We can all be sane sane sane

Sane in love

Just a little bit crazy and

sanelly in love

Just a little bit crazy and

Wildly and sanelly in love

Love

Love

Love
