

NOURISHING

wildflowers

October 12TH

6:30PM to 8:30PM

The Triad Theater
102 Yelm Ave. E.
Yelm, Washington

$12/person

Tickets available through
TheTriadArtTheater.com

Family-Directed Home
Funerals and Green Burial

A Holistic and Sustainable Approach to End-of-life

FEATURED SPEAKERS

JESSICA CALDWELL

Founder of Northwest Home Funerals & Green Burial; Founding Partner of The Northwest Green Burial Project; Home Funeral Guide; Board Treasurer, National Home Funeral Alliance; Hospice Volunteer.

Jessica will take you on a personal journey as she discovered a hands-on, family and community based approach to death care. She has traveled to every green burial ground in Washington State and has come back to share an opportunity we have to reclaim the wisdom of our past that honors human connection and our natural ties to the earth.

RICHARD BESKE

Author on end-of-life planning; retirement planner; estate and financial planner; hospice volunteer; life coach; community organizer.

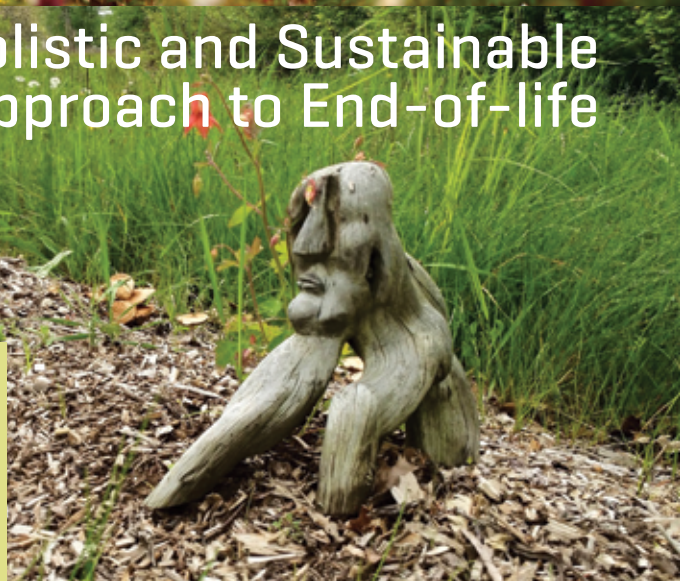

Richard has an incredible story of love to share and what is possible with home funerals. He is an inspirational writer and has helped so many with his insight to living fully, even after a death.

BRIAN FLOWERS

General Manager, Moles Farewell Tributes; Green Burial Coordinator at Greenacres; Licensed Funeral Director; Former President of the Green Burial Council; Founding Partner of The Northwest Green Burial Project.

A professional storyteller, Brian will bring relevance and historical perspective to the conversation by pulling back the veils of the funeral industry and sharing the powerful ecological and meaning making opportunities of green burial.

Join us for this intimate and engaging evening, as leaders of the home funeral and green burial movement take you on a journey — from death care as an “industry”, to the return of our ancestral roots.

Real-life stories will inspire the audience. How we care for our dead is culturally relevant today and will forever change your thoughts on what is possible for living fully.

NORTHWEST
Home Funerals
& Green BurialSM

For more information ■ www.nwhomefunerals.com jessica@nwhomefunerals.com ■ (360) 951-6210