ORGANIZATIONAL LEVEL TRAINING

S.P.E.A.R. System Combat Applications

This is a full integration program which includes research & design, implementation, sustainment program, Subject Matter Expert (SME) creation.

Course Program Of Instruction (POI) includes:

- Orientation
- Optimizing the ‘HUMAN WEAPON SYSTEM’ (Research on Physiological & Kinesiological Systems)
- Combat Psychology, Introduction to Startle-Finch Research & Its Affect on Complex Motor Skills
- S.P.E.A.R. Essentials Skills & Fundamentals
- Combat Applications
- Critical Scenario Analysis & Programming
- HIGH GEAR Scenario Instructor SME course
- Operator Applications
- SME Selection & Creation

* HIGH GEAR is required to support this training

 This is a sample POI and will be tailored to suit your needs

Pre-Deployment & Specialty Scenario Courses

We have developed very specialized scenario-based programs to support pre-deployment schedules.

- Counter Kidnap/Capture Avoidance Programs
- Multiple Assailant Defense
- Confined Space Combatives (fighting while in a vehicle helicopter, airplane, bus)

Tactical PT & Combat Calisthenics™

Our program, Combat Calisthenics is a researched training method that helps evolve athletes into warrior athletes. During Tactical PT we condition the warrior athlete to work through rigorous & relevant combative problems they will likely encounter during combat operations or hand-to-hand conflicts.
MISSION

Blauer Tactical Systems (BTS) is the world’s leading consulting company specializing in the research and development of combatives, defensive tactics, scenario-based training, and training program management for law enforcement and military.

COMPANY PROFILE

During the 1980’s, BTS pioneered reality-based self-defense with their ground-breaking “Panic Attack” drill; the design of the world’s first functional scenario-based training suit, HIGH GEAR™; and the first self-defense program based on psychology, physiology and kinesiology, known as the S.P.E.A.R. (Spontaneous Protection Enabling Accelerated Response) System™.

BTS also developed Ballistic Micro-Fights™, an analytic and systematic approach to scenario training by reverse-engineering real world confrontations.

BTS provides training program management, as well as force-on-force training equipment. BTS products and concepts are used by the world’s leading military, law enforcement, private security and defense companies, including: the U.S. Navy SEALs; U.S. Army Special Forces; U.S. Marine Corp.; U.S. Air Force; U.S. Coast Guard; Federal Bureau of Investigation; U.S. Customs and Border Protection; Federal Law Enforcement Training Center and the Federal Air Marshal Service.

BTS provides a scientific, medically-researched and battle-proven system and program design expertise to enhance the mission-readiness and survivability of military personnel, law enforcement officers and private security providers around the globe.
Blauer Tactical Systems has strategic partnerships with companies that can provide complete integrated solutions, including: human patient simulator, tactical driving, breaching and marksmanship.

ABOUT THE S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM™

S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM TRAINING

The S.P.E.A.R. (Spontaneous Protection Enabling Accelerated Response) System is a scientifically researched & medically reviewed close quarter personal defense method that utilizes the body’s natural flinch responses and converts them into efficient tactical movements.

The foundation of the S.P.E.A.R. System is based upon what the body will do prior to any training, making it the fastest, most natural way to move the human body. The System is built upon physiological responses related to violence and fear, making it the most realistic and reliable System for real-world altercations.

PHILOSOPHY

The S.P.E.A.R. System is a science.

“Genetically inspired,” the System is based on research of the psychological, emotional and bio-mechanic realities of close quarter combat. The System is ‘behaviorally’ researched and was designed to enhance any current training, providing users with strategies and tactics to survive sudden resistance or an ‘ambush’ during close quarter contact. The S.P.E.A.R. System takes into account fear, reflexive flinches and emotions as mitigating influences during high-stress confrontations, capitalizing on the instinctual process and converting the energy and movement of these behaviorally-based reactions into tactical options.

LEVEL ONE:
BASIC S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM

Training Elements:
- Convert the Flinch
- Drive the Threat Back
- Threat Discriminate
- Engage/Disengage

Results:
- Immediate improvement in survivability and effectiveness of soldiers
- Clear “in-the-field” relevance to end users
- Increased confidence and interest in practicing/continuing training

LEVEL TWO:
COMBAT PSYCHOLOGY

Training Elements:
- S.P.E.A.R. Level 2: Dynamic Applications of Basics
- Scaled Ballistic Micro-Fight Drills

Results:
- Increased personal courage
- Adaptive thinking
- Solution-based actions

LEVEL THREE:
SPECIFIC SCENARIOS

Training Elements:
- Development of tactical skills in specific scenarios, content is customized to client’s mission

Examples Include:
- Flex-cuffing
- Wall Search
- Weapon Control and Disarm

Results:
- Enhanced S.P.E.A.R. competence
- Improved confidence
- Standardization of procedures and processes

LEVEL FOUR:
SCENARIO APPLICATIONS OF THE S.P.E.A.R. SYSTEM

Training Elements:
- Customized mission-specific scenarios

Examples Include:
- Protective Service Detail
- Solo Operator
- Checkpoint
- Counter-kidnapping/capture avoidance

Results:
- Increased operational effectiveness
- Stress inoculation
- Reduced reaction time

LEVEL FIVE:
INSTRUCTOR PROGRAM

Training Elements:
- Instruction for trainers on levels 1-4, including content, materials and educational models

Examples Include:
- Certification of internal trainers
- Establishment of capabilities for S.P.E.A.R. instruction

Results:
- Fully-developed course, including student and instructor materials
