Wines are arranged by body and depth of flavours - from lightest to heaviest

We've designed a versatile wine list that covers every taste preference. The intensity of flavours and the generous use of spices in Indian food can sometimes prove challenging for wines, so we selected wines that could compliment and cope with this profusion of flavours.

As a guide, bear in mind that the higher the content in alcohol, oak and tannins the more this will enhance the perception of heat and spices.

A certain amount of sweetness will, however, coat the palate and provide a soothing effect, hence the presence of three off-dry white wines on the list.

We hope this selection adds to your dining experience and meets your expectations.
