The Cape Eleuthera Institute is seeking an Educational Programs Intern to support its visiting education programs. Primary responsibilities include assisting with delivering outdoor education programs for middle school and high school students at the Cape Eleuthera Institute. This position requires the ability to work long hours with a close-knit group of peers and live in an isolated community. This is an excellent opportunity for someone who wants to get valuable experience in organizing and delivering experiential learning programs.

Internship Responsibilities
- Assist in executing the logistics to run successful educational programs (primary, secondary, high school)
- Teach fish identification and basic courses in marine ecology, sustainable living and research
- Serve as an assistant instructor for tours on campus and on the island that may include snorkelling, biking, camping, sea kayaking, hiking, and community outreach
- Assist in care of Educational Programs shared equipment including, tents, kayaks, dorm supplies and bicycles
- Learn to create and deliver morning exercise programs
- Assist in monitoring the well-being of students and their chaperones/instructors
- Leading tours for visitors on campus

Preferred Qualifications
- Must be a minimum of 21 years of age
- Should have completed, be planning to complete, or in the process of completing an undergraduate degree in marine biology or education
- Previous education or research experience and an active interest in marine conservation and environmental education is essential
- Able to put in long hours of work in a variety of programming and land, sea, and weather conditions
- Must be in good physical condition and able to lead exercise programs
- Boat driving experience, SCUBA certification, WFR certification and sea kayak experience will be helpful but not essential
- Strong swimming skills and comfortable in water of all depths
- Applicant should be proficient in Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint
