Paul Browde and Murray Nossel: Two Men Talking

[Audience comments from the Clarice Smith PAC website.]

"This performance was extraordinary. The stories told by Browde and Nossel covered the spectrum ... thoughtful to thought-provoking, charming to disturbing, laughing out loud funny to seriously sober ... but in the end, I was uplifted and full of hope."

"On Monday I went to the free open discussion and was curious to come back to a performance. It was a wonderful sensitive and poignant performance. I am curious about storytelling especially with an improv element. I was sorry when it ended."

"Absolutely amazing. Very professionally done, but in a relaxed environment. Totally inspiring."

"This was a very enlightening performance and a learning experience for everyone in the audience. They need to return to the Center in the future."

"It was informative, funny, poignant, thought-provoking, and inspiring."

"Enlightening, energetic, thoughtful, exciting, riveting, exceptional."

"One of the best performances I've ever seen, at the Center or elsewhere."

"Very engaging. I thought 80 minutes might be too long but it went quickly."
