JOYCE MASSEY TBI SUMMIT II
October 20, 2017 | Ann Arbor, MI

Bringing together leading traumatic brain injury experts to discuss the future of TBI research.

NETWORK
- 108 attendees
- 8 key opinion leaders
- 8 universities represented
- 15+ departments & organizations

LEARN
- 4 laboratory science talks
- 4 clinical science talks
- 4 technology dev. talks
- 11 scientific posters presented

KEYNOTE SPEAKER
Andrew Maas, MD, PhD
Emeritus Professor of Neurosurgery, Antwerp University
Co-Chairman of the European Brain Injury Consortium

TBI RESEARCH PRIORITIES (as voted by attendees)
- Identifying and validating prognostic and predictive biomarkers to aid clinical progress
- Clinical trials/comparative effectiveness studies of critical care management strategies
- Continuity of the trauma chain, including prehospital care and rehabilitation
- Tackling the reproducibility crisis in preclinical TBI research to get solutions to the finish line