Citizen Schools North Carolina has been bringing Citizen-driven learning into the classroom, inspiring middle school students to discover and achieve their dreams since 2006.

To date, we have served over 5,789 students, partnered with over 122 corporate and community partners, and engaged over 2,348 volunteers.

INNOVATION SPOTLIGHT:
This year, we launched Catalyst, a 2-year pilot, with teacher design partners, to develop and test a new approach to classroom instruction - one that pairs teachers with community experts to deliver engaging, real-world projects in middle school classrooms.

FACT: This year, Citizen Schools North Carolina is hosting the largest Catalyst pilot, in partnership with Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools, with the support of 7 teachers across 2 campuses, with 15 community volunteers, in service of 210 students.
