

Please note, the list below is a work in progress compiled by Cal-Earth alumni. If you find another sandbag manufacturer please let us know so we can share it with everyone who visits our website. The main goal of this type of construction is accessibility and affordability, and shipping bags overseas is costly and difficult. Our goal is to find bag manufacturers in every country so everyone can source them locally and inexpensively. Please send an email to products@calearth.org with the name/website/location of any other sources you find.
