Job Description

We are looking for an organist on Sunday mornings. Our worship begins at 11am. We need accompaniment for the service: including congregational singing, as well as preludes, postludes, and background music in transition times. The organist would receive the music, selected by the pastor, via mail/email/fax during the week, and then arrive Sunday mornings at 10:30 to practice with our volunteer choir and review with the Pastor about the service.

We have a volunteer choir that is mostly self-directed, that needs accompaniment during their anthem. This could be on the piano, down below the organ; to be worked out.
