(Date)

The Elks of Canada were founded on September 26, 1912 and incorporated by a special act of Parliament on May 16, 1913. The first Lodge was established in Vancouver, B.C. and the Officers and members then expanded the Elks organization across Canada. Charles E. Redeker became the first National Leader of the Elks of Canada.

The Elks of Canada consist of nearly 300 Lodges with 11,000 members located in almost every province and territory.

How can I get involved?

It's easy! Just follow these steps:

-  Fill out the attached application

-  Contact an Elks Lodge;
(visit www.elks of canada.ca or contact the National Office at 1-888-843-3557 to find the closest Lodge to you)

-  Become a member!

How does my membership help the community?

The men and women of the Elks of Canada promote and support community needs across Canada. Whether it's local programs such as building projects, sports groups, playgrounds, or other various charitable activities, Elks members love to be involved and help out.

The Elks of Canada also support and have many provincial programs and national programs. We are associated with charitable programs in almost every province and territory. As an organization we also sponsor programs such as our Leadership Development program for our members.

"I am #ElksProud because it has given me the opportunity to help more individuals than any one person could help on their own in a lifetime"

- Kelly - Brooks No. 77

"I am #ElksProud because of the help we give children and families that they may not otherwise be able to get. Knowing I have helped to make a difference makes me feel proud to be an Elk!"

- Lisa - North Bay No. 25

Elks & Royal Purple Fund for Children

Our National Charity

The Elks of Canada support their own National charity - The Elks and Royal Purple Fund for Children. We take pride in helping children and supporting programs related to hearing and speech all across Canada.

Over the years, the Elks and Royal Purple Fund for Children has received national and international recognition for dedicated and significant contributions to the advancement of communication health.

The Elks of Canada are proud to have contributed millions of dollars and countless hours of volunteered time to charitable endeavours.

Funding Programs

Through supporting programs that address hearing & communication disorders we are able to:

- Fund on-going clinical programs in several provinces
- Provincial scholarships for students studying Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology
- Create Awareness campaigns related to communication disorders
- Act as advocates for excellence in Early Detection Programs across Canada.
