A rabble of uncertain, fugitive, half-fabulous whales

by

Rena J. Mosteirin
The following text is an erasure poem that takes the
"Cetology" chapter of Herman Melville’s Great American novel
Moby-Dick as source material.

I would like to thank the two brilliant women who make the Little Dipper glow in the northern night sky, Rebecca Siegel
and Shari Altman. – RM

Dedicated to Jed
The text of this chapbook is set in Goudy Old Style, which was created by Frederic W. Goudy in 1915 for American Type Founders. Goudy Old Style's letter forms are inspired by the printing of the Italian Renaissance.

The cover is letter pressed using Emerson, which was designed by printer and book designer Joseph Blumenthal and is named after Ralph Waldo Emerson's essay "Nature." The cover is letter pressed using Emerson, which was inspired by the printing of the Italian Renaissance.

The Pequod’s weedy hull
the barnacled hulls of the leviathan;
appreciative and understanding revelations and allusions
are to follow. no easy task. the classification of chaos, nothing less Listen

utter confusion (sperm whale), says
to have one’s hands among the unspeakable foundations,
ribs and very pelvis of the world;
What am I that I should essay to hook the nose of this leviathan!
Will he (the leviathan) make a covenant with thee?

I have swam through libraries
I have had to do with whales with these visible hands
lungs and warm blood;
a spouting fish with a horizontal tail.

There you have him.
The leviathanic brotherhood
the grand divisions of the entire whale host.
A rabble of uncertain, fugitive, half-fabulous whales, which, I know by reputation, by their forecastle appellations; following whales according to Leviathanism stated at the outset, be here, and at once see that I have kept my word.

Sperm Whale

used for light, an ounce of rhubarb in the course of time, to enhance its value by a notion so strangely significant.

Sperm Whale
Mealy-Mouthed Porpoise

the only English porpoise,
less jolly
quite neat and gentleman-like sentimental Indian eyes of a hazel hue.
distinct as the mark in a ship’s hull.
he just escaped

Right Whale

the most venerable of the Leviathans, he is The Whale; True Whale;
it is the whale some pretend to see
they precisely agree
the Right Whale.
Huzza Porpoise
All over the globe I call him
They are the lads that always live up before the wind.
Heaven help ye; his jaws in request
among jewelers and watchmakers.
It is you that a porpoise spouts.
It is you

in the Pacific.
he will buckle to a shark
I have lowered for him

Fin Back
a monster
Tall-Spout
the whale so often descried in New York deep within. His hump or fin in his baleen. His great lips
He seems a whale-hater as some men are men-haters.
His name a conspicuous object projecting from the surface.
Into the bowels of various Leviathans
to defy all whale-naturalists in his anatomy.
His name, a conspicuous object projecting from the surface.

All over the globe I call him.
Thrasher

He mounts the Folio whale’s back
he works his passage by flogging him,
some schoolmasters get along in the world by similar process.
Both are outlaws even in the lawless seas.

Hump Back

is often American. He has towed a peddler;
Elephant and Castle distinguish him, a hump,
oil
baleen
gamesome and light-hearted
making more gay foam than any other
we are all killers

Razor Back
coward, Let him go.
his peculiar horn sixteen feet in length, it does not seem like the blade of the sword-fish and bill-fish, the Narwhale employs a rake Charley Coffin said an ice-piercer; for the Narwhale breaks through. But cannot prove in reading pamphlets of the Unicornism in every kingdom. Prodigious can say nothing more that is true of ye, Nantucketer. Queen Bess did gallantly wave her prodigious long horn in the castle at Windsor of the Unicorn nature.
Grampus

a proverb to landsmen, a denizen among whales possessing all the grand distinctive features
He is moderate
fifteen to twenty-five feet in length,
swims in herds;
hunted, for light.

Black Fish

the Hyena whale, voracity well known an everlasting Mephistophelean grin on his face.
He has a peculiar Roman nose.
the Sperm capture the Hyena to keep
for domestic employment—as frugal housekeepers,
some of these whales will yield
