YOU CAN HELP THE KITTIES WITH DINNER AT CHILI'S!

Chili's at 51st & Harvard is sponsoring StreetCats for a "give back" day (11 a.m. until 10:30 p.m.) on Tuesday, June 16. We will have fliers at our center to give you and to distribute.

The day of the event, you can take the flier with you into Chili's, and 10% of your purchase price will be donated to StreetCats.

We will be passing out fliers to all the vets we use also so that anyone who loves Chili's and StreetCats can pick up a flier in lots of places!

Or you can call Linda Holland at 492-8887, and she'll let you know how to get one for yourself or several to distribute.

As everyone knows, "There's No Place Else Like Chili's," so "Pepper In Some Fun" and join us at 51st & Harvard on Tuesday, June 16 from 11 a.m. until 10:30 p.m.

Chili's would like everyone to bring in a flier, but if you absolutely can't get one, just mention StreetCats when they take your order, and we should get credit for your purchase.

See you there!

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT ON JODI WISE

Jodi Wise has been volunteering with StreetCats for about four years now and is currently on the Saturday afternoon crew.

She is married and has three cats: Al, a gray and white female who was originally feral, but that she and her husband Lester tamed about 18 years ago; Ripley, a Ragdoll adopted from StreetCats almost three years ago; and Fiona, a stray calico that adopted her and Lester 10 years ago.

Jody works full-time at St. Francis Hospital in the Non-Invasive Cardiology Department, doing ultrasound. Her hobbies include going to the movies (particularly of the monster or zombie genre), listening to music and just hanging out with friends and family. Her favorite restaurant is Johnny Carino's, and she loves any kind of sweet dessert (especially cheesecake!)

Her favorite spot in Tulsa is Swan Lake because of its beauty and serenity, but she dreams of vacationing in England and hopes to fulfill that travel dream soon!

StreetCats is very blessed to have Jodi as one of its longtime dedicated volunteers.

Mission Statement: StreetCats, Inc., believes that all cats deserve a home. StreetCats wishes to reduce the population of unwanted cats by maintaining "A Stitch-in-Time," a spay and neuter program for feral and stray cats, and by sheltering cats who no longer have people to care for them. We seek adoptive families who value animals and will love and protect our StreetCats.

A WORD FROM OUR PRESIDENT, KATHY BALSIGER

StreetCats has hit spring running, and we are about to jump into summer! Please check out the fundraising events planned and ongoing as the organization relies on these to support our "kitty cause." As always, I want to thank our loyal supporters. Without you, StreetCats couldn't do all the good it does.

The recession is hitting all of us in one way or another: slower sales, decreased donations, fewer adoptions, and the sad truth that so many are being forced to give up their pets. With this in mind, I want to express my appreciation for the dedicated board members and volunteers. StreetCats remains strong in this economy because of perseverance, compassion, some sacrifice and clear direction. We hope to see or hear from all of you in the coming months. Don't forget to shop our Gift Boutique, visit our Web site, and come pet the kitties awaiting new homes!

Your president,

Kathy Balsiger

P.S. Almost forgot to tell you about the ongoing fundraising effort that I help coordinate with Cassie Willbourn, another StreetCat volunteer. Cassie and I pick out the BOK Center events that we plan to "work" each month. StreetCat volunteers then run designated concession stands during these events in exchange for a portion of the sales proceeds and tips. This has been a new, successful and fun adventure for StreetCats as we've brought in over $2,800 for the kitties.

We now need more volunteers to work future concerts; all that is required is a Food Handler's Permit. I can explain the process and tell you about all the fun we have. Please call me at 521-4039.

ELVIS FANS TO ROCK AND ROLL FOR STREETCATS

The Elvis Presley Fan Club of Oklahoma is officially approved by Graceland. It is based in Okemah and is now in its 12th year. The club has selected STREETCATS to be the beneficiary of the fund-raising proceeds from its June 6, 2009 "Elvis in Vegas" theme party!

The party will be at the Brickstreet Café in Okemah and will start at 7:00 pm with DJ Ronnie Kaye from KOMA 92.5 FM. Dancing will last until 10 p.m. From 7 to 9 p.m., there will be a silent auction of new official licensed Elvis items! Tickets are $8 for adults, $5 for those 6 years and under, and it will be free for kiddies 3 years and younger. Food and drink will be available for purchase. You can call 623-1814 to order tickets or go to the club's Web site at <http://www.myspace.com/elvisfanclubofoklahoma>. Don't be a "Hound Dog." Come out and help the kitties!

AFFAIR OF THE HEART CRAFT SHOW

Mark your calendar, and make room on your schedule for the upcoming "Affair of the Heart of Tulsa" craft show, July 17-19 at the QuikTrip Center.

StreetCats is participating in the show again this season and will have the same booth as in the past — 343 & 344 — which is one row to the east (or right) if you enter on the south side (where the Golden Driller is). Show admission is $6 and is good for all three days. Come early for the best selection. See all the new things StreetCats has and stock up on your favorites like the Catnip Escape Pillows, handmade by volunteers. These cat toys were a HUGE hit last year, and there have been numerous requests for more! The hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. Hope to see you there!

MICROCHIP RESCUE

StreetCats wants to share a story about a frightening, but very positive event. Groucho is a beautiful male, but has adoptability challenges because he sometimes bites when being petted. Because of this, he is considered a special needs cat and has been in a semipermanent foster home. He disappeared from that home, however, and was missing for several weeks. We can only imagine that he went searching for his special person and forever home.

Groucho ended up in the Broken Arrow Animal Shelter; however, he was more fortunate than most animals who find themselves in an area shelter. StreetCats has been microchipping all its cats since January 2008. The BA Shelter scanned Groucho and found the microchip. StreetCats was contacted, and Groucho is now safe. He is still awaiting his “purrrfect forever home.” If you have an all-adult household and are patient and “cat savvy,” Groucho might be a good fit in your home.

He is a very affectionate, sweet kitty who loves attention ... but sometimes bites! For more information or to meet Groucho, call Catnip Cottage at 743-5600.

SPOTLIGHT KITTIES

Jet is a very affectionate black, short-haired male born in April 2006 who was returned to us when his owner went into hospice care.

Jet is an absolutely sweet lap cat who really misses having his own home, which he shared with another cat who has been adopted. He will make a wonderful addition to your home, and he's ready to go home with you now!

white cat who was left defenseless on the streets of Tulsa since he is front declawed. He was a very sad-looking guy when he found StreetCats, but after being groomed and spending a month recovering at Catnip Cottage, he is a very handsome man looking for a new home. Caspurr is a mellow cat, but now that he has his health back, he's outgoing and active and loves food as well as attention from all the volunteers at the shop.

and grey striped tabby with big green eyes. To set her apart from other tabbies, she has orange fur on her tummy — oops, fluffy — tummy. She is quite the diva and keeps all the other kitties in line with just one look. She's only two years old and would love to be the only cat in the household so she doesn't have to share your lap.

Don't forget to check our Web site, www.streetcatstulsa.org, and click on Needs A Home to see all the cats we have for adoption.

2009 MY FURRY VALENTINE WAS A SUCCESS

Our 2009 annual fundraiser, My Furry Valentine, was a great event held at the Tulsa Elks Club on February 9. Karen Moreland and Angela DeWalt, fundraiser chairpersons, organized a fantastic silent auction, thanks to all the wonderful donations we received. Judy Loyd once again wowed us with her clever decorations, and Joyce DeBoard served up the super-delicious desserts and wine that were donated from local businesses and restaurants. The talented Joese Glaude once again donated his soothing guitar music, which added to the ambiance of the event. New this year was the Oklahoma Jubilee quartet (associated with Sweet Adelines), which provided a special treat to all who were there as they spontaneously moved throughout the venue with their upbeat harmonies. New also was the talented photographer, Chris Freeman, who donated his time to take and produce pictures of everyone to put in their thank-you gifts of magnetic StreetCats picture frames.

StreetCats raised $10,000 at this event! Thanks to everyone for their donations, attendance, and hard work to again make this a very special Valentine for the kitties. Save the date: 2010 My Furry Valentine is planned for Sunday, January 31!

MEALS ON WHEELS DONATIONS

StreetCats has committed to the Tulsa Meals on Wheels organization 50 lbs. of dry cat food (new, unopened bags) and two cases of canned cat food each month. Meals on Wheels has many clients that need supplies for their cats in order to afford to keep them. These clients also need scoopable litter.

The donated food and litter are collected and prepared for delivery by volunteers with the TU Paw Law group and Community Care College volunteers. If you would like to help with food or litter donations, please bring the supplies into our Adoption Center and indicate that they are to go to Meals on Wheels. Thank you for helping us support this wonderful organization that is trying to help the less fortunate in these tough times.

ASK THE VET — HYPERTHYROIDISM

Today, hyperthyroidism is one of the most common diseases seen in middle-aged and older cats. With the ease of diagnosis and availability of medications, it is also becoming more rewarding to treat and manage the condition.

Very simply, hyperthyroidism is the overproduction of the thyroid hormones, T3 and T4. It is usually caused by an enlargement of the thyroid gland by a non-cancerous type of tumor. This causes a high metabolic rate in the cat that creates most of the symptoms associated with the disease. The typical hyperthyroid cat is older and often very thin, with a poor hair coat. Most owners bring their cats to me because they have noticed an overall weight loss despite a ravenous appetite. Other symptoms can include vomiting and diarrhea along with excessive drinking of water and urinating. Secondary conditions that often accompany hyperthyroidism include heart disease and high blood pressure, which frequently must be treated in conjunction with the hyperthyroidism. Concurrent kidney problems can also occur with the disease — and, unfortunately, can often worsen with treatment of the hyperthyroidism and must be monitored closely.

Diagnosis is a simple blood test and can be run in most hospitals at a relatively reasonable cost with results in less than one hour. It measures the circulating T4 levels in the blood. This is also the method for monitoring response to treatment after a diagnosis has been made. Other diseases can have similar symptoms, so it is also important to check a full profile on a geriatric cat that is losing weight and an evaluation of the heart is necessary in most cases. Because hyperthyroidism is being seen more frequently, many veterinary hospitals are now recommending routine thyroid testing in cats over seven years old, even if they are not symptomatic.

Once a diagnosis of hyperthyroidism is reached, there are three therapy options; 1) antithyroid drugs, 2) surgery, 3) radioactive iodine. The primary antithyroid medication is methimazole or Tapazole. It requires lifetime therapy and can cause side effects, but it is now readily available at most pharmacies and affordable. Personally, I have good success with this treatment and have found that most cats respond favorably with few problems. It can also be compounded in an ear gel that is absorbed through the skin and makes medicating much easier. The T4 level is then monitored every 4 to 6 months for dosage modifications and success of treatment. Surgery to remove the thyroid glands is a more radical therapy choice, and it can have many complications due to anesthesia and the procedure itself. It is also expensive and is generally not recommended. Radioactive iodine is considered to be the optimum treatment choice, but it can be cost-prohibitive, and it usually requires up to 10 days of hospitalization at a specialized hospital or veterinary school. The treatment, however, is non-invasive and doesn't require anesthesia. It is also curative in most instances, with no further medications needed. Depending on the situation, there are advantages and disadvantages of each treatment. Your veterinarian can discuss which method would be best for you and your cat.

There are exceptions to the information I have provided. Rare cases of hyperthyroidism can be caused by a malignant tumor that may not be responsive to therapy. Other cases of feline hyperthyroidism may need further diagnostic tests of a free T4 test or a T3 suppression level if the T4 level comes back normal, but hyperthyroidism is still suspected. A scan of the thyroid gland can also be performed for a precise diagnosis at specialized hospitals.

Feline hyperthyroidism is not a death sentence. In most cases, it can be managed effectively or even cured. However, it can cause other serious problems and should not be taken lightly. There is not a right or wrong way to treat hyperthyroidism. Every patient and situation is different. Work with your veterinarian to find the treatment solution that will work the best for you and help your cat to live a long and happy life.

SHOP THE STREETCATS GIFT BOUTIQUE!

How many times have you needed a gift for a cat lover? So you stagger through the mall on a quest for the perfect gift, but all you get is tired feet and disappointment? Or perhaps it is YOU that enjoys treating yourself with kitty socks, kitty handbags, stationery, or cat-related jewelry?

Perhaps your kitty needs a new toy? So you go to one of the major pet stores, only to be disappointed in the selection and dismayed at the high price they are charging! Next time, why not go to the "StreetCats Gift Boutique"? The selection of items is amazing! Whether it is beautiful Laurel Burch handbags, scarves and other fine designer goods, or a tiny ceramic kitty to set on your desk, StreetCats has it! Some of the many items they have are: travel bags, T-shirts, stationery, jewelry, picture frames, books, tableware, night lights, garden stakes, car mats, flags ... the list goes on and on. Everything in the boutique is either cat-related or FOR a cat. There is also a very good selection of toys for cats — all of them suggested by cat owners and "tested" by the StreetCats kitties.

A wide assortment of other items for cats is also available, such as bowls, beds, scratchers, collars, grooming tools, and more. Unlike the larger pet stores, you don't have to search for someone to help you, since StreetCats is staffed by patient volunteers who love to help customers. The Adoption Center and Gift Boutique is open Tuesday through Saturday, from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the corner of Sheridan and 60th Street, behind Charlie's Chicken. All the proceeds from sales go directly to the care of the kitties, so not only will you be finding "just what you've been looking for," but you'll help the homeless cats of Tulsa!

STREETCATS FEATURED IN TULSA PETS MAGAZINE

TulsaPets Magazine is a valuable resource for pet owners in the Tulsa area. It ran a wonderful article in its Winter issue about StreetCats. In the Spring 2009 issue, you can see Sharyl Landis' kitty, King Solomon, in the Pets About Town section. Sharyl is one of StreetCats' newest volunteers. You can also read the story of "Lucky," a very special StreetCat, that is written by another of our volunteers, Mary Taylor!

TulsaPets Magazine has now started a new service on their Web page, www.tulsapetsmagazine.com. It features information and pictures of cats and dogs from various area rescue organizations that need adoption. You can find StreetCats' available kitties there, as well as on the StreetCats website, www.StreetCatsTulsa.org. StreetCats also has an ad in each of its issues, and special events will be listed in the magazine when scheduled.

A KITTEN'S TALE

My story is simple
A tale often told
A cute little kitten
To cuddle and hold.

But then I got bigger
And day after day
It just seemed that no one
Ever wanted to play.

And then something happened
There were boxes and twine
I guess they forgot me
For they left me behind.

But please don't be sad
For now I'm not alone
You see StreetCats just found me
A "for-ever home!"
