NEW NEIGHBORS

The area around Metropolis's new offices continues to see an influx of design businesses and showrooms, many of which are exploring new formats and partnerships. Ernest Collective (above), which opened at 255 Fifth Avenue on May 13, is a partnership between NYC distributor d'apostrophe and European brands Royal Botania, Delta Light, and Renson. The Italian manufacturer Porro (below) has opened a showroom at West NYC Home, a concept store at 135 Fifth Avenue, where it showcases products in three categories—living, working, and organizing.
