About

Jacy Corral (pronounced "Jackie") is a freelance hand lettering artist, illustrator, and graphic designer — plus a wife and mom. After enjoying an extensive career in corporate marketing and design, she traded fancy slacks for yoga pants to focus on the great privilege of raising her kids, investing in her home and marriage, and creating artwork that helps people to connect and reflect. The co-creator of the Big and Little Coloring Devotional, Jacy lives with her husband, daughter, son, and miniature poodle in West Los Angeles, CA. She shares her creations as well as a window into her daily life regularly online.
