

CV - Luke Van Aurich

Luke Van Aurich (b. 1990 Perth, Aus) is a photographer, obsessive printer, and maker residing in Narm Melbourne. He's a self-taught artist who primarily works with film with the intent to produce printed matter in unconventional forms.

His most recent solo exhibition, 'Good Night' at No Vacancy in Federation Square, Melbourne. This show included 11, framed B/W sealed risograph prints of only one edition. Installation works including a 9-page single image mounted on textured foam and a custom made prayer kneeler adorned with florals, a zine, and an overhanging frame. All works were left untitled and unlabeled in a gesture employed to remove bias, allowing the viewer to impose their own truths onto the work.

Luke continues down this path, producing work that is lofi in nature yet embellished with high-end finishes.
