

¡buenas erres!™

¡Buenas Erres!™ means “Nice Rs.” (It’s not pronounced like the capital of Argentina). Odds are you’ve been mishearing this tricky Spanish letter in words, much like misheard lyrics to a song, and pronouncing it (and other letters) wrongly without realizing it.

To avoid embarrassing social situations, use the SlowMotion Spanish™ technique: First go with what you know, English pronunciation. Then accelerate at your own pace, still thinking and speaking in English.

Try the sub-set of vocabulary units below, and you’ll be on your way to sounding more like a native Spanish speaker in no time, with ¡Buenas Erres!™ (buh-WHEN-ahs Ed-ess)

Countries

odd-hen-TEEN-ah	Argentina
COAST-ah-DEKE-ah	Costa Rica
PWETTER-toe-DEKE-oh	Puerto Rico

Mind Your Manners

POHD fah-bode	Please	Por favor
good-AH-see-yahs	Thanks	Gracias
theh NAH-thah	You’re welcome	De nada

Animals

el peen-GWEE-no	penguin	el pingüino
el leh-OWN	lion	el león
lah heed-AH-fah	giraffe	la jirafa

Colors

ah-SOOL	blue	azul
BETTER-theh	green	verde
ah-mah-DEE-yo	yellow	amarillo