Known for his charismatic and magnetic personality, choreographer and entertainer Kershel Anthony has been lighting up the dance and fitness world with his distinctive moves for over twenty years.

Raised in New York, Kershel started dancing at the age of five and attributes his love of dance to being surrounded by music while growing up. He studied Dance at Hofstra University where he perfected his style, becoming an expert in hip-hop, ballet, and modern dance, as well as honing his breakdancing skills. From The King Michael Tour to the IDEA World fitness conference Kershel has been stomping his feet and making imprints into today's hottest trends.

“As a single father and an Entrepreneur my sole purpose is to provide and educate my son to do his best and become his own boss. And that’s its ok to think outside the box, to go for your dreams and never stop doing what you love. This goes for those I come across with. Whether in fitness, dance or life I want to help you become a leader, to love yourself. To help you be a better version of you.”
