

Riley Crabtree Piano Instructor

Mr. Crabtree received his undergraduate degree in music composition and theory from Vanderbilt University and is currently seeking his Master degree and teaching certification for choral conducting at Belmont University where he plans to graduate from in 2018. He is quite the accomplished jazz pianist and also plays the saxophone. You can often catch him playing in music venues around Nashville. He has been playing saxophone and piano since 5th grade and has continued with his musical training into college. He loves to play in the style of jazz but is trained as a classical player as well. Mr. Riley, as his students call him, aspires to become a high school choir director while continuing to teach private lessons and hopes to someday publish his own choral compositions. We are thrilled to have Mr. Riley join our Elite staff this season!
