

Julie Carrick Dalton

Biography

As a journalist, Julie Carrick Dalton has published thousands of articles in The Boston Globe, BusinessWeek, The Hollywood Reporter, and other publications. She has a Master's in Creative Writing from Harvard University Extension School and has published short stories in the Charles River Review and The MacGuffin. A video production of her short fiction is featured on LitSnap, a website dedicated to flash fiction.

She is a current member of GrubStreet's Novel Incubator, year-long novel intensive and a frequent contributor to DeadDarlings and GrubStreet's writers' blogs.

When she isn't writing, or chasing after her four children and two dogs, Julie runs a family farm in New Hampshire. She also loves skiing, kayaking, and digging in the dirt.

