

On the Edge Gallery
COOPERATIVE ART

How to Deal With Rattlers
SNAKE ENCOUNTERS

Fire Department Tips
SAFE TURKEY DAY

85255 Life

The key to your community

It's Kids Vs. Hunger

Preschool Children Help Fight Homelessness in Phoenix

Children's Art to Aid Charity

Through the Empty Bowls Project at Pinnacle Presbyterian Preschool, kids combine creativity and helping others.

Send us your photos.

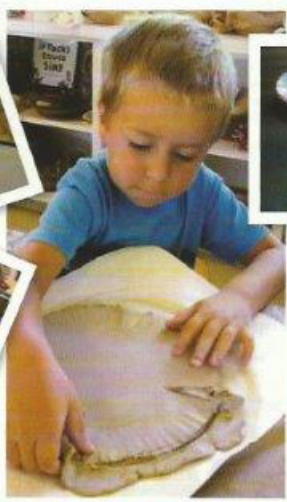

Do you have photos from a special event? Why not send them to Snapshots at the email below.

85255life@hibu.com

Photos courtesy of Pinnacle Presbyterian Preschool

Top, a boy at Pinnacle Presbyterian Preschool gets instruction in shaping his creation for the Empty Bowls Project for charity. Above, a boy flattens the clay while a girl, right, decorates her bowl.

The bowls of Pinnacle Presbyterian Preschool's Empty Bowls Project (see story on facing page) come in many colors and designs, as the photos depict. They start as a pizza-shaped flattened piece of clay, center, before they are molded into bowls and put through the kiln. The decorative bowls are then sold to raise funds for the UMOH family homeless shelter in Phoenix.

Photos courtesy of Pinnacle Presbyterian Preschool