Re: Perteet Inc. to add Cultural Resources to its offerings

Everett, Wash: May 23, 2018 – Perteet Inc

Perteet Inc. announced the addition of cultural resources management to its suite of consulting services. Perteet will now offer cultural resource assessments, tribal coordination, archaeological monitoring during construction, archaeological testing and data recovery, historical GIS map progressions, and historical research.

To lead the group, Perteet has hired Amber Earley, MA, RPA. Amber has over 20 years of experience as an archaeologist and has spent the last fourteen years serving clients in Washington State. Crystal Donner, Perteet's President and CEO added "This new discipline will allow us to provide even more value to our clients. We have worked with Amber and her team on many projects over the years and we are thrilled to have her lead this new group at Perteet. Amber's programmatic and sensitive approach will help our public agency clients navigate the regulatory settings for cultural resources and successfully advance their project goals."

Perteet Inc. is an award-winning engineering consulting firm dedicated to enhancing the quality of life in the communities we live. 100% employee owned, Perteet partners with local, county, and government agencies to keep the cities and towns of Washington State moving forward. Since 1988, our talented and experienced team has been committed to keeping people safe, traffic moving, and communities thriving. www.perteet.com
