

INDIA AS A RISING POWER

Yale-NUS College

Spring 2016-17

rohan.mukherjee@yale-nus.edu.sg

Synopsis

With the world's second largest population, third largest economy, and third largest military, India is a pivotal country in Asia and the world. This course will cover modern India's history, domestic politics, and foreign policy and provide students with a sophisticated understanding of the world's largest democracy and its changing place in global affairs. Each week, we will first develop relevant context from the literature on international relations, and then delve into detailed works on India.
