NOYES ARTS GARAGE, A.C.
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. - The Noyes Arts Garage of Stockton University presents art exhibitions and a variety of events for the end of the summer season. Visit the galleries to see: ZODIAC: Identity and Interpretation and ALAN WILLOUGHBY, both on view until September 23, 2018.

ZODIAC: Identity and Interpretation, is on view from June 13 – September 23, 2018 at the Noyes Arts Garage. Sculptor Donna Dodson explores the relationships between the astrological world and human identity with her expertly carved wood animals of the eastern and western zodiac. (Photo 1)

ALAN WILLOUGHBY, a solo exhibition, is on view from July 10 - September 23, 2018 at the Noyes Arts Garage. After retiring as executive director of the Perkins Center for the Arts in 2016, Alan Willoughby returned to the ceramics studio full time, describing himself as a re-emerging ceramic artist creating beautiful thrown and hand-built clay pieces with both additive and subtractive processes.
