WE TAKE THE LONG VIEW

The Johnstown Symphony Orchestra draws on our deep history to inform how we envision the future.

We were founded by immigrant laborers in 1929. Ten years later, NBC Radio Network hailed us as one of the finest independent orchestras in the eastern United States.

Today, we are known for our innovative programming and tomorrow, we want to be known for our inclusiveness.

WE INVEST IN EDUCATION

Preparing young musicians is central to our mission. We bolster the efforts of K-12 music teachers with low cost music lessons, in-school ensembles and performance opportunities through the Johnstown Symphony Youth Orchestra.

The JSO invites young people to be curious about music.

How the Music Gets Made provides insight into our performance practices.

Our Young People's Concerts reach more than 2,000 students live and via on-line streaming.

The JSO makes music on many stages including ones at:

- The Flight 93 National Memorial
- Roxbury Bandshell
- Somerset Courthouse Plaza
- Johnstown's Central Park
- Christ Centered Community Church
- The State Theater
- Laurel Arts
- Mount Aloysius
- The Grand Halle
- Bottle Works Ethnic Arts Center
- Galleria Mall
- Cambria County War Memorial

This season we scheduled performances in five different venues. We collaborated with many local organizations including the NAACP, Operation BeYOUtiful, and UPJ Sparks. We embedded our music in the 20th Observance of Flight 93, the Downtown Johnstown Cultural Crawl, and the Viet Nam Era Veterans Recognition Day.

OUR COMMUNITY INVESTS IN US

This year the JSO has nearly doubled the size of our Board of Trustees, diversifying and strengthening our leadership.

Our Annual Fund is steadily growing, too. Just two months after launching our campaign, we have raised more than $130,000 or 80% of our goal.

This year we welcomed a new Leadership Sponsor CBM Machines, a local business with deep ties to the community.
