How to Apply for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and/or Social Security Disability (SSDI)

THE INITIAL APPLICATION

How you can apply for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and/or Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits:

1) Online at https://secure.ssa.gov/iClaim/dib. Fill out the disability application and answer the questions. Mail or bring your application documents to your nearest Social Security office.

Before you apply online, you can review the “Adult Disability Starter Kit” which provides answers to common questions and includes a checklist that will help you gather the information you will need to apply. Be sure to fill out these worksheets to ensure that you have all the necessary information. You may also visit www.ssa.gov/applyfordisability/ for more information on the application process.

OR

Contact the Social Security Administration (SSA) to schedule an interview. You can visit a local office or call the toll-free telephone number: 1-800-772-1213 between 9:00am and 3:00pm, Monday through Friday. (TTY 800-325-0778). This phone call serves as the date of your application and may affect the amount of retroactive benefits you may receive.¹ A representative will ask for information to verify that you meet the basic requirements for eligibility and then schedule an appointment to discuss your application with a representative at a local SSA office. You may have the option to conduct this initial interview in person or by telephone.²

2) Before the initial interview, you may receive a form in the mail from SSA asking for detailed information regarding your past and present medical and employment histories. If you do not receive this form in the mail before the interview, you will get one at the initial interview. This form is called a Disability Report.³ To make the interview as easy as possible and speed up the processing time of your application, you should gather the names, addresses and phone numbers of your doctors and past and present employers before your meeting, and fill out the form to the best of your ability. If you do not receive the form before the interview, bring the names and contact information with you to the interview.

3) After the initial interview, your claim will be sent to an analyst at a state disability agency who will decide your eligibility. The analyst will contact you by phone or mail acknowledging your application for disability benefits.⁴ The analyst may request additional information from you before deciding on your claim and you may submit additional evidence about your disability. You also may be scheduled for an exam with a doctor contracted by SSA to give an opinion about your disability.⁵ Once your application is completed, you should receive an approval or denial of your claim within six to nine months.

⁵ SSI 20 CFR 416.919  SSDI- POMS DI 11055.180
4) If you are denied again, you will need to fill out a Request for Reconsideration form to appeal the decision. You have 65 days from the date on your denial notice to file a Request for Reconsideration.⁶

Tips to Remember:

- A delay may result in a loss of benefits for which you are entitled
  Call 1-800-772-1213 immediately when you apply
- Be sure to list all medical conditions that you believe may interfere with your ability to work
- Respond promptly to requests for information or SSA may deny your claim based on non-cooperation

THE RECONSIDERATION STAGE

Since most people are denied at the initial stage, it is important that you continue with your claim by filing a Request for Reconsideration form, which can be obtained at your local Social Security office. You also will be asked to fill out another Disability Report to update your medical treatment history⁷.

After you file the Reconsideration form, your claim will be sent to an analyst at a State Agency who has never seen your case before.⁸ The analyst will attempt to gather your most recent medical records.⁹ Since analysts are often unsuccessful at collecting these records, you should ask your doctor or case manager to send your recent treatment notes to the analyst. In some cases, it also may be helpful to ask your doctor or case manager to write a letter to the analyst describing your symptoms and how they impair your ability to work.

You should receive a written decision within three to six months. If you are denied at the Reconsideration stage, you should consider filing for a hearing before an Administrative Law Judge. This form is also available at your local Social Security office. You have 65 days from the date printed on your Denial of Reconsideration letter to file a request for a hearing before an Administrative Law Judge.¹⁰

Tips to Remember:

- When filing a Request for Reconsideration, request a copy of the form you have submitted with a date stamp so you can prove that you filed on time.
- Do not be discouraged if you are denied – most claims are denied at the Reconsideration Stage.

THE HEARING STAGE

Since most claims are denied at the initial and reconsideration stages, you should consider continuing your claim at the hearing stage. When you request a hearing, you will receive a letter confirming SSA’s receipt of your request.¹¹ It will take between nine and twelve months for your hearing to be scheduled before an Administrative Law Judge. During that time, you should seek legal assistance from a private attorney or an advocate who specializes in Social Security law or a non-profit agency. For possible representation or a list of referrals, you may call our Health Intake Line at (408) 280-2420.

Updated 2/2019
What You Should Know Before You Apply for Social Security Disability Benefits

We sent you this disability starter kit because you requested an appointment to file for disability benefits. The enclosed letter has the date, time, and location of your appointment.

The following are answers to questions most people ask about when applying for disability benefits. Knowing the answers to these questions will help you understand the process.

★ What can I expect during the appointment?

A Social Security representative will interview you and complete an application for disability benefits and an Adult Disability Report. The interview will take place either in your local Social Security office or by telephone. It will take at least 1 hour.

★ What can I do to speed up the process?

You can cut your interview time in half by starting the process online. You can complete online, BOTH the application for benefits and the disability report by going to:

www.socialsecurity.gov/applyfordisability.

You still need to keep your scheduled appointment with the local Social Security office, so a representative can review your information.

If you cannot do business with us online, you can complete the enclosed Medical and Job Worksheet and have it ready for your appointment.

You can also speed things up by bringing to your office appointment the information listed on the enclosed checklist. If you have an appointment by telephone, the representative may ask you to provide any required checklist items.

★ How does Social Security decide if I am disabled?

By law, Social Security has a very strict definition of disability. To be found disabled:

- You must be unable to do any substantial work because of your medical condition[s]; and
- Your medical condition[s] must have lasted, or be expected to last, at least 1 year, or be expected to result in your death.

★ My doctor says I am disabled. Is that enough to qualify me for disability benefits?

No. You cannot get disability benefits solely because your doctor says you are disabled.
What You Should Know Before You Apply for Social Security Disability Benefits

★ I am getting disability payments from my job or another agency. Can I automatically get Social Security disability benefits?

No. Social Security disability laws are different from most other programs. For example, Social Security does not pay benefits for partial disability.

★ How long does it take to make a decision?

Generally, it takes about 3 to 5 months to get a decision. However, the exact time depends on how long it takes to get your medical records and any other evidence needed to make a decision.

★ How does Social Security make the decision?

We send your application to a state agency that makes disability decisions. The state has medical and vocational experts who will contact your doctors and other places where you received treatment to get your medical records.

The state agency may send you forms to complete or ask you to have an examination or medical test. If the state does request an examination, make sure you keep the appointment. You will not have to pay for any examination or test you are sent for, by the state agency.

★ If Social Security decides that I am disabled, what types of benefits can I receive?

Social Security pays disability benefits under two programs:

- Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) for insured workers, their disabled surviving spouses, and children (disabled before age 22) of disabled, retired, or deceased workers.
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI) for people with little or no income and resources.

★ Will my personal information be kept safe?

Yes. Social Security protects the privacy of each individual we serve. As a Federal agency, we are required by the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 522a) to protect the information we get from you.

★ What if I am more comfortable speaking in a language other than English?

You are encouraged to bring a friend or relative to translate for you. We provide free interpreter services to help you conduct your Social Security business. However, we need advanced notice to make arrangements with the translator.

★ Where can I get more information?

You can visit our website at www.socialsecurity.gov, ask the interviewer during your appointment, or call us toll-free at 1-800-772-1213 [for the deaf or hard of hearing, call TTY 1-800-325-0778].

Checklist – Adult Disability Interview

We encourage you to begin the application process online. Visit www.socialsecurity.gov/applyfordisability to get started!

Use this Checklist to get ready for your appointment or when filing online. We need your personal and income information to complete the interview to determine if you are eligible for disability benefits. Keep your appointment even if you do not have all of the information. We will help you get any missing information.

- Medical records already in your possession. (We will help you get the rest of your medical records. Please bring whatever medical records you have to the interview).
- Workers’ compensation information, including the settlement agreement, date of injury, claim number, and proof of other disability awarded payment amounts.
- Names and dates of birth of your minor children and your spouse.
- Dates of marriages and divorces.
- Checking or savings account number, including the bank’s 9-digit routing number, if you want Direct Deposit for your benefit checks.
- Name, address, and phone number of a person we can contact if we are unable to get in touch with you.
- If a medical release Form SSA-827 (Authorization to Disclose Information to the Social Security Administration) was included with this package, please complete (sign and date with witness signature) and return it as directed.
- If unable to file online, complete the “Medical and Job Worksheet – Adult” and bring to your interview.

Bring the Checklist items and information to your appointment or have them with you if your appointment is by telephone.

Do not delay filing your application, even if you do not have all of the information.
Create a my Social Security Account

You are required to login to your existing my Social Security account, or attempt to create one. To create an account, we will ask you a series of identity questions for verification. You may want to have certain items on hand to be prepared for additional security questions, such as, but not limited to: mobile phone (for the purpose of receiving texts and emails), credit card, W-2, and tax forms.
