This group will give parents/caregivers an opportunity to step out of busy daily routines, to play and learn with their children ages 0 to 3.

It is an opportunity for you to meet with other families, to explore and discuss what our children tell us through play.

We will watch together, be curious together, and we will learn about areas of children's social/emotional development and consider possible meanings of behavior.

Every child is different! Caregivers and their typically developing children and children with special needs age 0-3 are all welcome.

Facilitators:

Meghan Spyker, PsyD, is a postdoctoral fellow at the UCSF Infant-Parent Program. She has worked in the mental health field for 15 years and with children and families for the past 5 years. She is a mental health consultant to Support for Families.

Sarah Bennett, LCSW, is a social worker at Support for Families. She co-facilitates the group with Meghan Spyker and also serves to connect group participants to other recreational activities and further support groups and services available at Support for Families.
