Painting Power

This portrait of James Watt was painted thirteen years before Watt died and was said to look very much like him.

Which words and phrases do you think describe how this portrait tell us about the sort of person James was?

Strong, proud, worried, old, young, thoughtful, caring, intelligent, fun, determined, fearless, happy, content

Can you add of some words of your own?

Think of someone you would like to paint a portrait of. Have a go at drawing or painting their likeness or write a description of your chosen person.