

Purpose Guide Institute & Meridian University Collaboration

Purpose Guide Institute and Meridian University collaboration enables students who are pursuing graduate degrees at Meridian University to concurrently complete the Purpose Guide certificate program for academic credit towards their degree program.

The Meridian University degree programs which are eligible to receive academic credit for participation in the Purpose Guide Certificate Program are:

Integral MBA in Creative Enterprise

M.A. in Psychology

Ph.D. in Psychology (meets the educational requirements for psychologist licensure in California).

M.Ed. in Educational Leadership

Ed.D. in Organizational Leadership

How it Works

Students enrolled both at Meridian University and Purpose Guide Institute can substitute 100 Purpose Guide certificate program hours for 10 quarter credits of Meridian coursework during the academic year in which they are participating in the Purpose Guide training. Enrolled Meridian University students meet the academic requirements of Meridian's programs, consisting of online learning, residential sessions, and reading and writing assignments related to the content of the their Program.

Meridian Scholarship program for Purpose Guide Certificate

Students admitted to both Meridian University and the Purpose Guide certificate are eligible to apply for a $5,000 scholarship toward Meridian's tuition, established especially for this program.

To Apply

To apply, please submit a separate application for each program, unless you have already been accepted into one of the programs.
